Style Guide 1.0: Literary Modern English

Style Guide 2.0: Text Type + Character Voice

Sample Revision I: Zhu Bajie

Born slow of wit, unable to advance or retreat.

Abstaining from emptiness but not from desire,
following both nature and the Buddha.

With his muckrake, he sows opportunity; with his fangs, he reaps karma.

In this turbulent, murky world, who cares about laughter or gossip.

生来心性拙，
进退不得脱。

戒空难戒色，
随性也随佛。

钉耙筑机缘，
獠牙拱因果。

滚滚浊世里，
管他笑与说。

Born blunt of heart, caught between advance and retreat;

he may renounce emptiness, yet never desire.

His rake turns fate, his tusks shoulder karma;

in this muddied world, let them laugh, let them talk.

见庙就进，见佛就拜，不分真假黑白，那是我师

Sample Revision II: Zhu Bajie's Character Voice

Zhu Bajie's Voice: rough comic worldly defensive emotionally burdened

老子一路上觉都睡不安稳
I couldn't get a decent night's sleep
the entire way.
Old Pig hasn't had one decent wink
this whole way.

曾着卖糖君子哄，到今不信口甜人哩
Once fooled by a sugar-coated charmer, I no longer trust sweet talkers.

Sweet talk fooled me once. Old Pig won't bite twice.

宁少路边钱，莫少路边拳
Better to lose roadside money than to take roadside punches.
Better short on coin than short on blows!

W6-W9: Can we finish the draft?
